

Facebook Identity Theft - A Warning for Social Networkers

October 24, 2013 - Millions of people have social networking accounts. Most people never think that these accounts can lead to a form of identity theft. But that's precisely what happens when social media profiles get hacked; something which isn't uncommon. The video below pertains to a Facebook user who fell victim to such a scam and who eventually had to involve the FBI in the case. He had a security clearance which could have been jeopardized by the incident. And that could have cost him his job. The story is a warning to all social networkers. Be careful what you post online and always make sure that you are the one in control of your online identity.

Tweet

```
(function() {
var s = document.createElement('SCRIPT'), s1 = document.getElementsByTagName('SCRIPT')[0];
s.type = 'text/javascript';
s.src = 'http://widgets.digg.com/buttons.js';
s1.parentNode.insertBefore(s, s1);
})();
```

```
(function() {
var po = document.createElement('script'); po.type = 'text/javascript'; po.async = true;
po.src = 'https://apis.google.com/js/plusone.js';
var s = document.getElementsByTagName('script')[0]; s.parentNode.insertBefore(po, s);
})();
```

by Jim Malmberg

Note: When posting a comment, please sign-in first if you want a response. If you are not registered, click here.

Registration is easy and free.

Follow me on Twitter:

Follow ACCESS

